Éiteas an Champa – The Camp's Ethos

Níl gá go mbeadh leanaí líofa sa Ghaeilge ach ba chóir go mbeadh tuiscint bhunúsach acu agus an Ghaeilge á foghlaim ar scoil acu.
Ba chóir an Ghaeilge a labhairt an t-am ar fad ag gach duine ag glacadh páirte sa champa

Children attending the summer camp do not need to be fluent in the Irish Language but should have a basic understanding, and should be studying Irish at school.
Irish should be spoken at all times by everyone attending the camp.

Ciallaíonn rannpháirtíocht i gCampaí Samhraidh ar líne go n-aontaíonn tuismitheoirí go mbeidh a bpáiste i chruinniú ar líne ina mbeidh siad infheicthe agus inchloiste don champa iomlán.

Participation in this year's online Summer Camps means that parents have agreed that their child will attend an online meeting where they will be visible and audible throughout.

Young people attending online Summer Camps should be appropriately dressed and attending from an 'open' area in the household with nothing inappropriate in the background, and where parents may check on them/be on hand if needs be.
